Superintendent's Highlights

The patrons showed their support to the district by passing the plant facility levy by 83.6%.

The 1999-2000 school year was one of improvement and change. The district added the positions of purchasing agent and public information officer. The purchasing agent paid his salary in savings alone. The public information officer created a quarterly patron newsletter called "The Bonneville Beacon".

The District also added the Telford Academy, an alternative (secondary) middle school.

Progress Towards Meeting District Goals

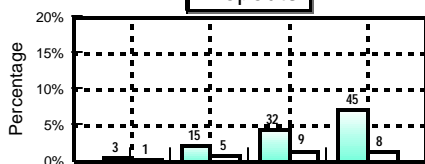

1999-00 Goals	Progress
Improve the teaching of science.	New textbooks were added, and in-service as to their use was provided to teachers.
Improve the parent-teacher-student communications in the elementary schools by creating a more up-dated computerized report card system, which is aligned to the curriculum and has the capability of tabulating scores, and averages.	Each teacher was provided with software for the new report card. In-service training and technical support is ongoing.
Develop a safety plan for the district.	Established a safety committee for the district as well as for each school. The committee created a Crisis Response Committee. Teacher in-service was provided in collaboration with Bonneville County's Sheriffs Department.
